

Modernization and Efficiency for America's Economic and Innovation Engine

The Department of Commerce advances U.S. economic growth, technological leadership, and data integrity through a diverse portfolio of missions. Under the current administration, priority is placed on delivering measurable returns on investment, accelerating innovation, and eliminating duplication across bureaus. Success requires modernization that works on day one, streamlined operations, and reliable data and systems that serve both policymakers and industry. Emerald One understands how to deliver high-impact results in complex, multi-bureau environments. We have a track record of helping federal organizations modernize systems, improve performance, and sustain results while ensuring every dollar and resource aligns to mission priorities.

How Emerald One Delivers on Commerce Mission Priorities

Commerce Priority	Our Approach
Technology Modernization and Adoption	We help Commerce deploy secure, interoperable systems with adoption strategies that ensure full use from the start, maximizing performance and eliminating waste.
Operational Efficiency and Centralization	We provide the support needed to standardize and realign processes and resources to ensure capabilities are matched to mission demand, while also modernizing and integrating systems to improve readiness, interoperability, and mission performance while reducing lifecycle costs.
Data and Analytics Performance	Our deep experience in economics and at the Department of Commerce enables us to improve the accuracy, timeliness, and usability of economic, demographic, and environmental data through process optimization and value maximization frameworks.
Innovation and Industry Partnership Enablement	We support Commerce in aligning the resources, contracts, and talent to accelerate high-priority initiatives and bring the best of industry capabilities into mission delivery.
